

thePressMini

Taken by: Barny Buston Year 10

Artist of the Month

P.2

UKs Illegal
Migration
Bill

P.5

Tech News

P.6-8

The Game
Review

P.10

Help add to YOUR newspaper

theBCSPress team is looking for new people to join our team, we are looking for anybody who would want to write about any issues that could be facing the school or young people in general.

You could join us as a regular writer, adding content to all of our editions, or you could join us on a freelance basis. Writing in just one or a few of our editions.

If you would just like to submit an article without coming to our meetings follow the link below or scan the QR Code:

<https://forms.office.com/r/x8cgREBpC8>

If you would like to come along to our meetings we meet:

In D29 at 12:50 on a Wednesday
Lunchtime

Artist of the Month

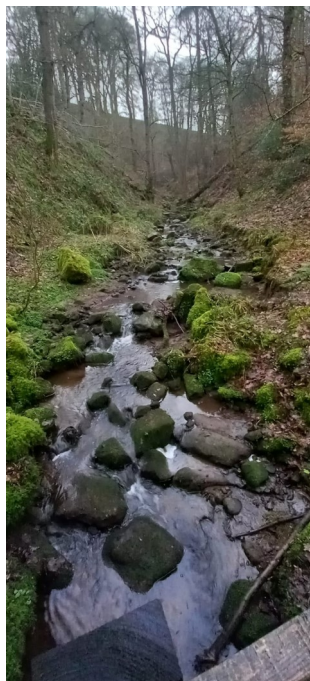

The Artist of the Month for March is Priya Seward in Year 13, with the painting titles “Jars”.

It is on display in the Reception.

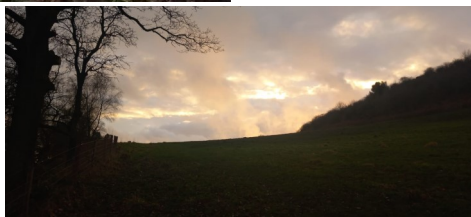

BCS Photo Page

Some wonderful photos from Barny Buston in Year 10

Some nice photos of landscapes from James Hiller in Year 10

The Counselling Service

The School offers a school time counselling service to all students. It is provided by our counsellor, Debra. It gives you a chance to talk or open up about what bothers you with someone who is not connected with family, friends or school.

She won't tell you what to do, but will help you make your own decisions. Sometimes it is good to be able to talk to someone, you may feel anxious and down but not know why. Even if you're not sure whether counselling can help, come and try anyway!

Whatever you discuss with Debra is confidential, unless she believes that you or someone else is being or is at risk of being harmed.

To book an appointment or change an appointment, email Debra at:

ehelp@buxton.derbyshire.sch.uk

(this can only be used during term time)

Or go and see her in B6

UK's Illegal Migration Bill

By: Haydn Smith

This has been a very busy term in politics. But lets have a look at the UK's new Illegal Migration Bill

- The UK Government had introduced a new migration law with the intent of removing “illegal” immigration into the UK, this law would prevent anyone coming to the UK “illegally” from claiming asylum which is a request to live in a country because you are escaping bad treatment or discrimination in another country.
- The law would give the Home Secretary a duty to detain and remove people arriving in the UK “illegally” either to Rwanda or to another “safe” third country. Any under 18's or anyone medically unfit to fly would be able to “delay” departure
- People removed from the UK would be blocked from returning or seeking British citizenship in the future.
- This proposed law has gathered a lot of criticism from people in the UK and internationally. With organisations such as Amnesty International, the United Nations and the European Court of Human Rights voicing concerns over it.

Apple Event Leaks

By: Luke Adkins

Recently there have been an influx of leaks, coming from all corners of the internet, as expected Marky G (formally Mark Gurman) from Bloomberg, who has claimed that apple will release; A 15" MacBook Pro, a 2023 MacBook Air and my most anticipated; an apple silicon-based Mac Pro. To screen manufacturers who are confirming the 15" MacBook Pro. lets take those one at a time, shall we? On Reddit there have been some whispers of the MacBook Air having M3, I think this unlikely as M2 Pro And Max have just been released on the Mac mini and MacBook pro 14/16", if they do then the focus will most likely be on battery, this is the card that they played when the M2 iPad pro's were released, as the OS can't take full advantage of the power of M2 (while writing I feel like my vocabulary has just morphed into a slightly pessimistic version of Craig Federighi's). On the MacBook Pro 15", I think that it will be discontinued after one edition, unless if they come out with something absolutely revolutionary similar to the touch Bar on the 13" pro. The reasoning for this is that the 13", 14" and 16" Models cover all the bases, there isn't a market that they can tap into here. As for the Mac Pro, this is overdue and there is most likely going to be an M2 Ultra or Extreme. I'm also interested to see which direction they take it in; similar to the 2019 Mac

Pro, in that it will be fully upgradable like a desktop PC, or it will go in the direction of the Mac Studio, locked down and soldered on. It's been strange, them releasing so late, I'm hoping its for something big, from the day of publication there hasn't been a confirmed date, but it's only a matter of weeks!

ChatGPT4

By: Luke Adkins

ChatGPT4 is an incredibly advanced chatbot that is based on artificial intelligence. One of the key features of ChatGPT4 is its ability to understand context, which allows it to provide more accurate and relevant responses to users. Another important feature of ChatGPT4 is its ability to generate human-like responses. This is achieved through natural language processing, which allows the chatbot to analyse and understand human language.

ChatGPT4 is also highly flexible and customizable. It can be trained on specific datasets to improve its performance in particular domains or contexts. This makes it a powerful tool for businesses and organizations, as it can be customized to perform specific tasks. Its applications include customer service, education, and emotional support.

Despite its advanced capabilities, ChatGPT4 is not perfect. Like all AI systems, it can sometimes make mistakes or provide inaccurate responses. However, as the technology continues to develop, we can expect to see chatbots like ChatGPT4 become increasingly accurate and reliable.

As the potential applications of ChatGPT4 and similar chatbots are vast, they are likely to become an increasingly important part of our daily lives. We may see chatbots become even more sophisticated, with the ability to understand and respond to more complex and nuanced conversations. As the technology continues to evolve, the possibilities for chatbots like ChatGPT4 are endless.

Putin Wanted by the World

By: Haydn Smith

The International Criminal Court has issued an arrest warrant for the Russian President Vladimir Putin.

The court, based in the Netherlands and established by the United Nations (however it is now independent) in 2002, exists as the only permanent international court with the authority to prosecute individuals for the crimes of Genocide, Crimes against Humanity, War Crimes and the Crime of Aggression.

It was established out of the Nuremburg Trials and the International Military Tribunal of WW2 where Nazi leaders were prosecuted by US, UK, French and Soviet Russian judges for crimes mainly originating out of the Holocaust.

It is unfortunately not recognised by all countries, including many in Asia and the Pacific, Africa and the US and Russia.

So, back to Putin. The International Criminal Court alleges he is responsible for war crimes, specifically the unlawful deportation (removal) of children from Ukraine to Russia.

It says the crimes have been continuingly happening since the invasion of Ukraine, one year ago.

The Game Review

By: Haydn Smith

Surviving Mars

Surviving Mars is a well, survival game where your job is to lead a mission to colonise and set up a permanent habitat on Mars. But the main point is, you must survive. (I have already somehow killed a person so be careful!).

You need to carefully manage donors, space agencies, supplies, oxygen, sandstorms, meteors and weird black-boxes to make your mission successful.

You can carefully finetune your passengers to perfect the operation of your colony, from biologists to officers, tourists to millionaires. There are plenty of people to choose from to make your colony unique.

You also have your own fleet of robots to assist you with discovery, building and management of your habitat.

£26.99 on Steam

My base, with 3 domes, 2 landing pads and a hell of a lot of robots theBCSPress returns next half term!

Your regular edition of theBCSPress will return next term with all the content you enjoy!

You made it to the back! Hi, have a cupcake!

